Our clients

SD: Client Comments – this is really a necessity. Not many websites in this industry have them, but it’s good for potential clients to see what others think of us/our work – not just what we say about ourselves. Talk is cheap!

Talk about types of clients: various types of architects, interior designers, developers, planners. Perhaps mention example projects of specific customers with links to the project pages.

Include links to Project Category pages for example, when mentioning Interior Designers, link to the Corporates Offices page; Developers -- link to large project pages.

TBD

- how many and which specific customers to name.
- should names of architects link to the architect websites?
